Vienna, December 28.

YEsterday arrived here an Expreſs with Letters from the Count de Forger, Governor of Leutſchau in Upper Hungary, written the 16 Inſtant, wherein he gives an acount, That General Schultz had the day before fallen upon Count Teckeley, who was marching with a Body of Hungarians to joyn the Turks, and had defeated him, killing many of his men, and having taken all his Baggage, and the Coach of the Count Nadaſti, he himſelf eſcaping very narrowly; And that General Schultz had ſent 500 Horſe in purſuit of the reſt. The Emperor, we are told, has given orders for the removing the Bavarians, who are at preſent lodged in places expoſed to the Enemy, into better and ſecurer Quarters. The Governor of Raab has ſent an Officer to acquaint the Emperor that a Chiaus is arrived there from the Viſier of Buda, and to know his Imperial Majeſty's pleaſure whether he ſhall ſuffer him to continue his journey hither, or ſend him back again. The Advices we receive from the Turkiſh Territories inform us, That the Viſier of Buda has ſent all the Women and Children, and the Men that are unfit for Service, to Belgrade, and that notwithſtanding there is at Buda great want of Proviſions, occaſioned chiefly by the Parties ſent out from Virovitza (which place General Leſlie made himſelf Maſter of the laſt Summer) who making their Incurſions as far as the Bridge of Eſſeck, do very much interrupt the paſſage of the Carriages on that ſide, and conſequently hinder the Turks at Buda from receiving the ſupplies which would otherwiſe be brought them from thoſe parts. The Enemy have had a deſign to build a Bridge over the Danube near Gran in order to diſturb the Imperialiſts in their Quarters, but it hath been prevented. We do not hear that the Moſcovites have committed any farther Hoſtilities upon the Subjects of the Crown of Poland.

Vienna, December 30. The 29th Inſtant arrived here an Officer ſent by General Schultz to give the Emperor an account of the defeat of Count Teckeley; The Particulars are thus related. Count Teckeley having got together between 4 and 5000 men, and marching to joyn 5 or 6000 Turks and Tartars which the Baſſa of Agria had drawn into a Body for the relief of Newheuſel, General Schultz, upon advice of it, aſſembled the Troops under his command to the number of about 4000 men, and marched with ſo much ſpeed that he overtook Count Teckeley the 15th Inſtant near Yglo, and fell upon him ſo unexpectedly, that he had hardly time to put himſelf into a poſture of defence; About 300 of his men were killed and 100 taken priſoners, the reſt fled, but had not the Soldiers loſt time in plundering, Count Teckeley and Count Nadaſti had in all probability been both taken; They left behind them all their Baggage, among which was a little Silver Trunk with Teckeley's private Letters and Writings, which are brought hither, and make, it's ſaid, a great diſcovery of his Correſpondents and Deſigns. We have advice from Lewentz that 800 Huſſars had defeated a Party of 1500 Tartars who were ravaging that Country, but that a Body of Turks coming to their aſſiſtance the Huſsars were obliged to retire with conſiderable loſs. The Spaniſh Ingenier who lately arrived here from Flanders, hath made a trial of his skill before the Duke of Lorrain with much approbation.

Bruſſels, January 12. Yeſterday was publiſhed here a Placaet commanding all Officers to repair immediately to their reſpective Gariſons, where a review will be taken of all the Troops on the 15th Inſtant, and a months Pay given them, after which, it's ſaid, a Reform will be made, and the Troops reduced to ſuch a number as that they may be duly paid. The Count de Bergeycke, who is made Intendent General of Flanders, Haynault and Brabant, has undertaken to pay the Troops in this Province, and in Charleroy, Mons, and Aeth, upon the ſame foot with thoſe in Flanders; He parted from hence yeſterday to viſit all the Gariſons of this Province. Another Placaet has been publiſhed commanding the Soldiers to keep within their reſpective Gariſons, and declaring, That if any ſhall be taken upon the Highways after the 15th of this month without a Paſs Signed by the Marquis de Grana, they ſhall be immediately hanged in the places where they are taken, and the Provoſt of the Court, the Droſſart of Brabant, and the Mareſchal-General, are commanded to have their Companies abroad for the executing the ſaid Placaet; and the Mayeurs and Officers in the ſeveral Towns and Villages are likewiſe required to ſeize all ſuch Soldiers as they ſhall find without Paſſes, and to convey them to the next Gariſon, the Governor whereof is commanded to cauſe them to be Executed without any form of Juſtice or Sentence of the Auditor. And that the Governors and Commanders of Places may be more careful to keep the Soldiers within their reſpective Gariſons, and to have ſmall Parties abroad for the ſecurity of their Diſtricts, his Excellency hath by a third Placaet declared, That if any Robbery be committed by Soldiers, the Count de Bergeycke, upon proof made before him, ſhall ſatisfie the Party robbed for the loſs he hath ſuſtained, which he is to deduct out of the Pay of the Governor and chief Officers of the Gariſon next adjacent to the place where the Robbery was committed. We have an account from Lille that the Mareſchal d'Humieres is returned thither from Paris.

Hague, January 12. The Court of Juſtice have named the Heer Van Herogbofelt to be Scout of Dort in the place of the Heer [illegible], whom they have ſuſpended; but he continues however to execute that Office, being protected therein by the Magiſtrates of that City. The Deputies of the ſaid Court have had a Conference with thoſe of the great Council about the Appeal of the ſaid Muys, which they ſay ought to be rejected; but the great Council are reſolved to proceed upon it. A Company of Dragoons of the Regiment of Colonel Heiderſleven, lately in the Elector of Calogne's, but now in the Emperors Service, having paſſed through the
